

SPANISH

Examination Board: AQA Qualification: A level

Teacher Contact: Miss E M Evans

Entry Requirements:

Grade B or above in GCSE Spanish. Students should have acquired the knowledge, understanding and skills required at the Higher Tier of entry at GCSE.

What will I study?

The A-level course is comprised of 3 papers.

Each unit covers a wide range of topics and subtopics on the following themes:

- Social issues and trends (modern and traditional values, cyberspace, equal rights etc.)
- Political and artistic culture in the Hispanic world (modern day idols, Spanish regional identity, cultural heritage or cultural landscape etc.)

MANGO

The A-level course builds on the knowledge, understanding and skills gained at GCSE. It fosters a range of transferable skills, including communication, critical thinking and creativity, which are valuable to the individual and to society. Students will develop their understanding of themes relating to the society and culture of the countries where Spanish is spoken. They will do so by using authentic spoken and written sources in Spanish.

How will I be assessed?

The final exam will consist of 3 papers.

Paper 1: Listening, reading and writing (50% of A level)

Paper 2: Writing (20% of A level)

Paper 3: Speaking (30% of A level)

Am I suited to this course?

You would be well-suited to studying Spanish at A-level if you:

- enjoy languages and want to develop your skills in a range of contexts
- are interested in Spain and Spanish-speaking cultures and societies
- are willing to develop your opinions on personal, national and international issues
- are willing to work hard to learn grammatical structures and new vocabulary
- are aiming for an international career

What other subjects does it complement?

Spanish links well with almost any subject as you will study a wide range of life experiences, from a Spanish point of view. Other languages will also complement the study of Spanish, as linguistic skills are highly transferable.

Where can it lead?

A-level Spanish will provide an excellent qualification from which to proceed to Higher Education. Languages can be studied at university in combination with many other subjects. Linguists are in high demand in the business world, and many other career paths value language skills highly.

What has been said?

'One language sets you in a corridor for life. Two languages open every door along the way'. –Frank Smith, psycholinguist.
